

Roberto Arroyo

I think this is pretty cool, you guys doing this, so here goes;

My name is Roberto Arroyo, but you can call me, Robert. I was born in Old San Juan, Puerto Rico, at the main Army post called Fort Bucanine (Aug. 31st 1956, I'm expecting presents now).

Not barely 3 months old, we moved to Brooklyn, NY, and there's where I grow up. I got my GED in Bremen, Germany 1976, I was stationed there when I joined the Army.

I served the Regular Army from 1974, until 1981, when I transferred into the Army Reserved and stayed off, and on 'till 1995.

From the Army...I don't know why, I went into the retail profession. I worked in liqueur stores, electronic stores (Circuit City, Best Buys), and went into early retirement after working for Lowe's for 11 years. Jan. 20th, 2017.

Before moving into the Sunshine State, I lived in Staten Island, NY.

Unusual experience.....hummm, the only thing I can think of, is when I was a kid leaving in Puerto Rico (from 1964-1965), when a ghost touch me on the back of my shoulder I would like to travel and see this here United States, like going cross country and seeing all the great parks and cities.

I've been always interested photography...looking for the great angle, taking an extreme close up of something, but I didn't get serious until 2015, when I bought my Nikon D3300.

I do mostly Landscape. I would like to learn Portrait, but I lack the ability to tell the people how to pose.

I do have other hobbies...Model train is very near and dear to my heart. I had a nice layout one time ago, maybe one day I'll do it again.

Model car kits is another hobby I'm into doing, just finished building a Automobile Transport, I'd attached a photo of it in case your interested in= seeing it. My newest hobby is RC plane flying, in fact it's such a new hobby that I don't even have a plane to fly of my own.

Well that's me, thank you.
